2.3.1 QM- Student Centric Methods, such as experiential learning, participative learning & problem- solving methodologies, are used for enhancing learning experiences.

With the objective of imparting knowledge to the students, the study process has been implemented in the institution by three ways:

- A. Experiential learning methods – This includes both UG and PG students, especially, students of Home-Science and Music in the context of skill development. Teaching-learning process is done in an experiential manner for the students of each subject. Demonstrations are conducted on different subject modules. B. Com students are sent for practice to CA firm to enrich them at various levels of economic development. Costumes are made by B. Voc. Fashion Technology students according to different fashion trends and its exhibition is also organized for all. Handicraft Warehousing was started in the institution. It also tries to buy and sell items made by the students. BCA students are encouraged to create various computer programs to enhance computer knowledge. Different types of ragas and songs are sung by BA and MA Music students. The competition is organized like singing patriotic songs competitions. Home Science students are also asked to prepare a variety of foods that have nutritional value in the diet. Different types of clothing are asked to create a variety of durable decorative materials from embroidered warm clothes to discard. The scientific study of pronunciation of sounds are taught in a practical way through language laboratory.

B. Participative learning methods - In this method, seminars, group discussions, and quizzes, various competitions like (essay, singing songs, debates and Elocution) are organized in the class in a successful manner. Further, education trips/ study tours are also organized.

C. Problem-solving methods - In it, students study in the context of various social, economic, religious, political, environmental issues. Various numerical questions are solved by B. Com students. Research project work on diverse topics are completed by the final year students of all the faculties for the purpose of solving environmental issues.

Women Study Centre of the college carries out projects on various issues of women from the students. A report is prepared by the committee and sent to the government.

Outcomes- This multidisciplinary approach builds confidence in the students and develops a critical research aptitude.

Exhibition

- Date: 12th Feb 2021 & 13th Feb 2021
- Number of student participated: 35

Aim of the Exhibition: We have taken this activity because the students have self employed. Exhibitions are typically designed to encourage students to think critically, solve challenging problems, and develop skills such as oral communication, public speaking, research, teamwork, planning, self- sufficiency, goal setting, or technology and online literacy etc.

Exhibitions provide the students with a large platform to showcase their skill what they have learnt and present it in public. The exhibition is a mass medium through which students can represent their learning and hidden talent among other.
